The Daily Courant.

Thurſday, May 22. 1718.

London, May 22.
Yeſterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

From the Amſt. Gazette, dated May 27.

Belgrade, May 6.

THE Count de Virmond, firſt Plenipotentiary of the Emperour, arriv'd here two Days ago, and having heard that Baron Dahlman was already gone for Paſſarowitz, he continued his Road to the ſame Place, being ſaluted by a triple Diſcharge of our Artillery at his Arrival and at his Departure. The Chevalier Ruzzini, Ambaſſadour Plenipotentiary of Venice, paſs'd alſo laſt Night before this City, going to Paſſarowitz, and was ſaluted by our Artillery in like Manner.

Buda, May 10. Yeſterday ſome Saicks paſs'd before this Place, going to join the reſt of the Imperial Fleet. Here arrive daily ſeveral Regiments of Horſe and Foot, together with Recruits for the other Regiments, all marching to the Place of Rendezvous. The Bavarian Troops which were come to Peſt on the other ſide the Danube, having paſs'd in Review, and received their Proviſions, are this Day departed to march to the General Rendezvous, which is near Semlin, on this Side Belgrade. Prince Eugene of Savoy is expected here by the End of this Month, to go to command the Imperial Army, which will not be leſs numerous this Year than it was laſt.

Vienna, May 24. The Emperour came hither the 12th from Luxemburg, and aſſiſted at the Proceſſion which is annually made for the raiſing the Siege of Barcelona. At the ſame time, was celebrated the Birth-day of the young Archdutcheſs Maria-Thereſa, who is now a Year old. The Prince of Bovera, who arrived here on Wedneſday laſt, has had Audience of his Imperial Majeſty; he will remain here a Fortnight, and then go to the Imperial Army, which is gathering together at Semlin. The Turks aſſemble their Army alſo, in Order to be in a Capacity to ſuccour any Place which the Imperialiſts may beſiege before the Concluſion of the Peace. Some Advices ſay, that the Grand Seignior has named Mehemet Baſſa to ſucceed the late Grand Vizier, whom he has depos'd. The Saxon Troops are ſuddenly expected here, and will be reviewed by the Emperour before they go to Hungary.

From the Haerlem Courant, dated May 28.

Vienna, May 14. We hear from Belgrade, that Count Virmond being arrived there the 4th, ſet forward the 5th for the Place of Congreſs, and that the Venetian Ambaſſadour being come thither the 5th, purſued his Voyage the next Day for Paſſarowitz, ſo that it is not doubted that all the Plenipotentiaries are now there, and the Conferences begun. The Imperial Counſellour at War, M. Fleiſchman, will to Morrow or next Day go thither alſo, but without a Character. The Saxon Regiments are daily expected, and 'tis talk'd, that ſome more Troops of that Nation will be taken into the Emperour's Service, to be ſent to Italy. We hear from Poland, that upon an Apprehenſion that the Peace the Czar will make with the King of Sweden, will not be advantageous for the Republick, the Crown General has given Orders for all the Companies to be filled up, and all the Troops to hold themſelves ready to march upon the firſt Orders.

Yeſterday South-Sea Stock was 115, 115 1 qr, to 115 1 8th. Bank 147 1 half, 147 3 qrs. to 147 one half India 208 1 half. African 16 1 half..

WHereas the Appendix to Mr. Pillonniere's late Book, Intitul'd, A Reply to Dr. Snape, &c. contains a Letter of mine to Mr. Mills, wherein I charg'd him with the abominable Untruth he told a Gentleman of good Reputation, viz. That I did by Force and Violence take from him Dr. Betſworth's Letter; alſo Mr. Mills's Anſwer, in which he ſays to me, That you uſed any Violence to get it from me, is what I never affirmed, neither can any Gentleman of Reputation ſay ſo and ſpeak Truth; and likewiſe contains a Certificate of the Gentleman referr'd to in my Letter, viz. Mr. Vin. Perronet, E. Coll. Reg. Oxon. wherein he proteſts and declares, he is ready, if deſired, to make Oath, that Mr. Mills told him two or three ſeveral times, That Mr. Glover, ſnatch'd the Letter out of his Hand. The ſaid Mr. Mills, in his late Book, call'd, A Full Anſwer, &c. inſtead of proving the Untruth upon Mr. Perronet, or ſifting his Character to invalidate his Teſtimony, has, for Reaſons known to himſelf, which the World may eaſily judge of, thought fit not to mention ſo much as his Name, but he falls very foully upon me, and charges me very falſly, as well as maliciouſly. To the rendring me odious, he not only inſinuates, but boldly and baſely affirms, without offering any Proof, that I hate the Church with an Infernal Spite, and that I hate the Clergy, which I ſolemnly deny to be true of me, and am capable of proving my having ſhown a contrary Diſpoſition. He has wickedly reviv'd the ſcandalous abſurd Story of the Aſs, to reflect on me, and others, very unjuſtly; of which, an Advertiſement was publiſhed by me, with one or two more, in the Flying Poſt of the 15th of April laſt, and in the Courant of the 10th of this Inſtant May. He has preſented the World with a malicious Certificate of Robert Aſhworth againſt me, which is altogether ſcandalous and falſe; and hath likewiſe, by a ſilly Hint in his Book, rak'd up an old Welch Story, which ſeveral of my Neighbours of Reputation have found a groſs Falſhood. He ſaith, he can prove me a groſs notorious Lyar, I hereby challenge him to do it if he can; and likewiſe to ſhow wherein I am a Perſon dangerous to him, or any elſe, unleſs by my known Zeal for His Majeſty King George. I may, perhaps, in a more proper Time and Way, publiſh my Vindication at large, as to the Things I have here mention'd, and ſome others; the falſe Account of which, my Enemies ſeem to deſire, may be to my great Prejudice in my Worldly Buſineſs, as well as to the murdering of my Reputation.

As to Mr. Mills, at preſent, I ſhall only declare further, that whereas in his late Book, he mentions my coming to him, to enquire into the Contents of the aboveſaid Letter, I ſolemnly proteſt, that I did not go to him for that purpoſe, not knowing that he had ſuch a Letter, till he then told me; but I went to tell him how Unchriſtian and Unneighbourly it was for him to reflect upon me, by ſpreading in the Town the Aſs Story, without firſt acquainting me with it. This was my Buſineſs, and when I had talk'd it with him, he lifted up his Hands, and wiſh'd he might never enter into the Kingdom of Heaven, if he had not been two or three Times at the Coffee-houſe to ſpeak with me about it; but notwithſtanding that Wiſh, this Man of Veracity and Truth, as he calls himſelf, told me afterwards at the Coffee houſe, That if I had not come up to his Houſe, he would never have ſaid any thing to me about the Matter.

W. GLOVER.
